Your Responsibilities

Based in Newcastle, and reporting to the Managing Director, this role will be primarily responsible for leading OH&S, managing the assembly team, improving production, and overseeing inventory and logistics. Your key responsibilities will be:

- Developing, managing, and leading a medium-sized team of assembly personnel in a semi-automated plant
- Ensuring production and distribution meet tight customer deadlines
- Leading process improvements to enhance productivity and reduce costs in line with KPIs
- Planning and managing inventory to ensure operational efficiency
- Overseeing purchasing, stock control, and logistical requirements for accuracy and flow

What you will bring

This full-time position will suit someone who has the following attributes:

- Strong understanding of Lean Manufacturing principles and process flow applications
- Excellent time management skills and establishing routines for observing deadlines.
- Strong problem-solving capabilities with a focus on quality assurance and identifying improvements.
- The ability to develop teams and relationships through personal leadership.
- Experience in preventative maintenance, single-shift operations, and driving efficiency.
